

HOW SERVICING YOUR AC CAN SAVE YOU MONEY

Your air conditioner works hard to keep your home comfortable. Return the favor with regular AC maintenance, and save money in the long run.

1 GREATER EFFICIENCY

Regularly servicing your air conditioner can help it to operate at peak efficiency. The result? You'll reduce your monthly cooling bills and keep more money in your pocket.

2 EXTENDED LIFESPAN

A well-maintained AC unit will last longer than one that is neglected, resulting in fewer replacement costs and more years of reliable service.

3 FEWER REPAIR NEEDS

From cleaning the filters to checking for refrigerant leaks, regular maintenance from the best AC contractors can help ensure that your air conditioner will be less likely to break down and need costly repairs.

4 BETTER HEALTH

Poorly maintained AC units can be a breeding ground for mold and other allergens, leading to respiratory problems. By keeping your unit serviced, you can prevent the spread of harmful air pollutants and require fewer visits to the doctor.

5 WARRANTY COVERAGE

Some manufacturers require regular maintenance in order to keep the warranty valid. An annual AC tune-up can help ensure that your unit remains under warranty and covered for any potential repairs.
